ROGER WEIR

A CONSCIOUS PHASE-SET LEARNING-FIELD ECOLOGY

Frankly you were subjected to psychic forces that were enough to drive a normal man quite mad. The rest of the crew—it is only fair to tell you—is insane. The nature of this expedition necessitates our manning the ship that way.

—Theodore Sturgeon, “Medusa”, 1942, 1955

The group I called together represented the best the Galactic Empire could offer of its philosophers, its psychologists, its historians, and its physical scientists. And in the twenty years since, we have considered the greatest problem ever to confront any group of fifty men—perhaps the greatest ever to confront any number of men.

—Isaac Asimov, “Foundation”, 1942, 1951

He went on to describe the techniques, and in the back of the room Gregory Kent took his first notes on the science of Nexialism.

And, carrying its little bit of human civilization, the expeditionary ship Space Beagle sped at an ever increasing velocity through a night that had no end.

And no beginning.

—A.E. van Vogt, The Voyage of the Space Beagle, 1939, 1950
